Terrible Calamity in a Market Building's Fall.

Eight Bodies Taken from the Ruins So Far.

Mexican Troops at Work Trying to Rescue the Injured.

(BY CABLE TO THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.)

CITY OF MEXICO, June 15.—The roof of the market fell in today while the building was crowded with dealers and customers. Hundreds were caught in the ruins and are still buried there.

Many were instantly crushed to death. The troops have been called out and have set to work digging out the dead and rescuing the living.

So far eight corpses have been taken from the ruins and fourteen wounded persons have been recovered.

Many more are missing. Not more than a third of the ruins has been explored.

The market is surrounded by a frantic crowd. The scenes of distress are heartrending.

LATER.—There have been forty-five wounded people taken from the wreck, many of whom it is thought, cannot recover.

The soldiers and citizens are doing all in human hands could do to rescue those buried beneath the debris and still alive.

It is thought that the number of dead will not run over from fifteen to twenty.

KILLED HIS MAN.

Ice Man McIntire's Opponent Did Not Survive the Bout.

Police Capt. Westervelt, of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station, was scoring Harlem this morning for James McIntire, a young ice-hander, who unintentionally killed a man in McFee's saloon, on the northwest corner of One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street and Second avenue, last evening.

McIntire is married, and lives with his wife and two children at One Hundred and Twenty-first street and Fourth avenue.

He has been employed for eleven years by the Knickerbocker Ice Company.

Upon finishing his day's work yesterday he went into McFee's saloon, where he met a stranger, who invited him to drink.

They had many rounds of drinks, when the stranger, who was roughly dressed, like a freeman on a steamer, prodded himself as the best all-around wrestler in New York.

"You may be the best in those places where you are known, but you are not the best here," said McIntire.

This seemed to irritate the stranger, who challenged McIntire to wrestle then and there.

Nothing loath, the latter agreed, and in a minute more the men were struggling about the barroom, surrounded by a ring of McIntire's friends.

McIntire suddenly lifted his opponent and tossed him with considerable force to the ground.

The stranger lay as if stunned and did not arise until the latter picked him up and stood him on his feet at the bar.

The bartender wanted to send for an ambulance, saying that he felt sure the stranger was seriously injured. McIntire and his friend begged him not to do so, saying that if he did it would only get Mac into trouble and that the unknown was not seriously injured.

Thereupon the man was carried into the yard and stretched out on an old piece of oil-cloth under a stoop, and left there to get better or die.

He died, although the fact was not discovered until nearly 8 o'clock, when Mr. McFee went out to take a look at him, and found that he was dead.

The body was cold, showing that the man had been dead for some time.

McIntire was very much alarmed, and asked what he should do.

He was advised to give himself up to the police, but instead of doing so he fled.

The dead man's body was sent to the morgue at the foot of East One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street.

It had not been identified at noon.

There was nothing of value found in his clothing except a pawn ticket for a coat pawned at 329 Third avenue on June 10 at $10.

The name McMahon was on the pawn ticket.

The dead man was about thirty-five years old and five feet eight inches tall.

He had a sandy mustache, gray eyes, dark gray suit, hickory shirt, laced shoes and tan colored undershirt.

The body will be interred in Potter's field on Monday if not identified.

BETRAYED HIS TRUST.

New Milford Post-Office Is Now in Possession of an Inspector.

(SPECIAL TO THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.)

BALTIMORE, Conn., June 15.—Post-Office Inspector J. D. Hall has taken possession of the post-office at New Milford, Conn. The accounts are in a very bad condition. The postmaster has been dismissed and the office is in charge of his assistant.

No weekly reports have been made for over three months and the quarterly report of stamps and revenues sold since Jan. 1 has not been sent to Washington.

A young lady employed in the office found $500 in the waste-basket and over $1,500 was found at the house of the postmaster. It was deposited in the bank by the inspector.

A new postmaster will be commissioned at once.

The appointment was made by ex-President Cleveland.

ANOTHER ARREST.

Thomas Tierney, of Chicago, Added to the Haul of the Cronin Suspects.

Moroney and McDonald Again Brought Into the Supreme Court.

Judge Andrews Postpones His Decision as to Their Release.

(SPECIAL TO THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.)

CHICAGO, June 15.—Quite a sensation was caused this morning by the discovery of a case of surgical instruments on South Canal street. At first the case was thought to be that of Dr. Cronin. It was taken down to Chief Hubbard's office where the Conklin failed to identify it as that of the murdered physician.

Later it was discovered to belong to a doctor whose office was broken into last night. The case and instruments resembled those of Dr. Cronin in every detail and moreover were spotted with blood.

Another Arrest.

Thomas Tierney, a member of the Clan-na-Gael and an employee of ice man Sullivan, is the latest arrest made in the Cronin case.

Tierney was taken into custody last night and occupies a cell at one of the police stations.

The officers claim that his whereabouts on May 4 have not been accounted for, and that there are a number of matters connected with the case in which it has been found that he has not told the truth.

The friends of Alexander Sullivan are jubilant today over the success of their efforts to get the Irish leader out of jail.

A Haul at the Prosecution.

Judge Tuley's language in his decision in the Cronin case proceedings is regarded as a blow to the prosecution. The judge said in part:

Haggerty's evidence relative to statements made by Sullivan at the time of Cronin's trial for treason, that the latter was a dangerous man to the Irish cause and ought to be removed is the most important evidence in the case. The coroner's jury would have failed to do its duty had it not been for Sullivan's testimony, but it was not a true statement.

The evidence fails to show any overt act on the part of Sullivan to satisfy his conviction. I do not think any jury would convict Sullivan on the evidence before me. After mature deliberation and very considerable hesitancy, I have come to the conclusion that the defendant is entitled to bail.

WAITING ON THE GRAND JURY.

Ball having been furnished by his friends to the amount of $20,000 Sullivan is now a free man until the result of the investigation now going on before the Grand Jury is announced.

If an indictment for murder in the first degree is found against him then he can be taken into custody again, but if it is only for conspiracy to murder, then the lawyers say Tuley's decision will stand pending his trial.

SULLIVAN'S BONDSMEN.

The three bondsmen of Sullivan—Michael Keegan, James W. Twoby, Ferdinand Jones and Daniel G. McKee—were yesterday scheduled at more than $1,000,000. They are all Irish-Americans and well-known members of the Clan-na-Gael Society in Chicago.

LONGERER DISAPPOINTED.

Judge Tuley's decision is a great disappointment to the authorities, especially to State Attorney Longenecker, and it is thought that it may have some influence with the Grand Jury in deciding upon the cases now before it.

THE GRAND JURY AT WORK.

That body is still considering the evidence against the various suspects and following up the case vigorously.

DILLON NOT ARRESTED.

Luke Dillon is unabashed at his reversal and is on the most confident of his position in the prosecution of the case. He proposes to remain here until the Grand Jury has completed its work.

QUESTIONABLE IDENTIFICATION.

It is said now that the alleged photograph of Moroney, which was used in depicting him with the man J. B. Simon, and one of the mysterious Williams brothers, of the Carlson cottage party, was not a picture of Moroney after all, but of a man who strikingly resembles him.

ONLY A RESEMBLANCE TO MORONEY.

The photograph, it is said, was obtained by Luke Dillon, who noticed the resemblance, and, suspecting Moroney's connection with the case, used it for his own purposes of identification.

MELVILLE, AN INNOCENT DRUMMER.

He is a Kansas City man who travels for the Chicago, St. Paul and Kansas City Railroad. He was in Chicago on April 16 and 17 and again about the middle of May. He was not in Chicago between the 1st and 15th of May and knows nothing about the signature which appears in the hotel register on May 3.

NOTHING TO DO WITH THE CLAN-NA-GAEL.

Mr. Melville is not an Irishman, and has nothing whatever to do with the Clan-na-Gael or the Cronin murder.

BACKING WATER AS TO THE OTHERS.

It is believed this morning that State Attorney Longenecker has serious doubts regarding the probability of securing an indictment against either Moroney or McDonald.

Nothing has yet been brought out in regard to the previous record which goes to incriminate him.

MORONEY AND McDONALD IN COURT.

Judge Andrews Again Adjoins the Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

John J. Moroney and Charles McDonald, the two Chicago suspects, were brought before Judge Andrews this morning.

(SPECIAL TO THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.)

SHEEPHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, June 15.—The Coney Island Jockey Club's track at Sheephead Bay presented an animated picture this morning. A crowd of horses led by jockeys moved hither and thither, some being exercised, others just arriving, while a small army of workers, men and women, were putting the finishing touches to the lawn, grand stand, cashing house, and bookmakers' stands.

Betting facilities have been greatly improved this year, and all uncomfortable crowding, a serious drawback heretofore, will no longer be known. Fifteen stands have been built in the rear of the huge betting pavilion, and the cashing house has been moved back of the mutual machines, which are in charge of Mr. Kirk.

There are forty-nine unhappy bookmakers who were unable to procure the privilege of laying odds. One hundred and twenty-four applications were made to the managers, but only seventy-five were accepted, as there is not room for more.

Seventy-five will pay $100 per day for the chance to share the odds.

A conspicuous feature at the track is a large sign over the entrance to the grand stand.

THIS RACE TRACKS BELOW THE STAND.

This means that the horse lost position of the famous three-quarter-mile straightaway course, and that the finish in future races over this course will be about fifty yards below the grand stand.

Owing to a flaw in the transfer of the property from the old to the new owners, the track has claimed about seventy-five yards of the course.

The stake features for today's races are the Double Event, for two-year-olds, the Equality Stakes for three-year-olds and the Volunteer Handicap for four-year-olds.

Early arrivals at Sheephead found it so hot that they all remarked that it would be a race every day under the circumstances. Several changes before the regular crowd began to arrive.

About 1 o'clock heavy clouds began to gather from the northeast and low rumblings of thunder were heard, making those who had not brought their horses to the track to regret their decision.

While the horses were going to the post for the Double Event a light rain came down, but it did not last long.

The crowd began to arrive early, and by the time the horses were out of the paddock the race every available seat was taken, and when the race was over the crowd was still there, and the race was a very successful one.

As is usual on the opening day, the ladies, who were the most numerous, were in the grand stand, and the race was a very successful one.

The limited number of books were sold, and in the grand stand the crowd was still there, and the race was a very successful one.

The most favorable positions were Messrs. Hackett, Fanner, Heintzman, Marshall, John Day, Child, Thayer, Connor, Nathan, Munson and the great Britton.

As is usual, the racing began with a five-furlong dash, for all ages, but today it was run for the chutes for the first time.

The field comprised some of the best sprinters in the country. Britton was the favorite, but he was disappointed by his backers by bleeding at the nose when he was about to make the final turn. The race was won handsily by the Dwyer Bros. famous Pontiac.

The Double Event for two-year-olds, was next on the card and this was also started in the chute.

It was the favorite, with the much-talked-of Timothy second choice. Toro won easily, while Timothy gave it up after running a half mile.

The third race was a mile and a furlong, with Hanover the favorite. He made all the running, and won with ease, and a length in last time.

Tenny was the favorite for the Volunteer Handicap, but he was backed by his owner, Mr. Paley, backed him so heavily in the winter that his winning amount to $20,000.
